

National Institute of Justice
Scientific Review Panel
Reviewer Nomination Form

The National Institute of Justice seeks nominations of highly qualified researchers to serve on NIJ's Scientific Review Panels (SRPs) to review research grant applications submitted for federal funding. Members appointed to NIJ's new SRPs will serve a three-year term and will provide technical expertise in assessing the scientific merit of research grant applications in a specific program area.

Please complete this form and send it via email attachment to Sherran.Thomas@usdoj.gov.

Nominee Information:
Name of Nominee:
Email:
Telephone:
Mailing Address:
Place of Employment:
Area of Expertise: (Please check all that apply.)	<input type="checkbox"/>	Policing and Crime Control
	<input type="checkbox"/>	Corrections and the CJS
	<input type="checkbox"/>	Violence and Victimization
	<input type="checkbox"/>	Forensics
	<input type="checkbox"/>	Science and Technology
	<input type="checkbox"/>	Other(s): (please describe below)
What strengths would the nominee bring to the SRP?
Please Complete the Reverse Side.

Nominator Information: (if different from the nominee)
Name of Nominator:
Email:
Mailing Address:
Telephone:
Relationship to Nominee:

The SRP will comprise a diverse representation in terms of geography, gender, race and ethnicity.

Qualifications for NIJ SRP members include the following:

- Recognized authorities in their field.
- Experience as principal investigator on a previous (or current) NIJ or other federal agency grant.
- Dedicated to high-quality and fair reviews.

NIJ's SRPs are modeled on the best application review processes of other federal science agencies. Beginning as a pilot in 2012, NIJ hopes to provide a means for delivering a rigorous, fair and transparent research grant application review process.

For more information about NIJ's grant review process, please email Sherran.Thomas@usdoj.gov.